DEFENSE MAY CLAIM HARCUMBE WAS IN LAW FIRM

The trial of the embezzlement case of the State against W. W. Harcombe was resumed in Judge J. A. Howell's division of the district court this morning, Walter G. Emley, assistant cashier of the Commercial National bank, being the first witness for the state.

Mr. Emley testified that Harcombe endorsed four different checks of D. Rosenthal and was given credit in the bank for the amounts. He produced three credit slips showing that Harcombe's account was credited with the face value of the checks. Royal Eccles, a member of the firm of Boyd, DeVine & Eccles, testified that the firm had requested Harcombe to make a settlement on his alleged defalcations but that he did not do so. Mr. Eccles also said that there never had been any persons in the firm except the three who are mentioned in the co-partnership name, Harcombe never having been considered as a member.

On cross-examination, the witness stated that he had known of at least one complaint made out by Harcombe, to which was attached the name of the firm in connection with that of Harcombe, but that he knew nothing of the details of the suit, except that related to the collections department. He also said that he had known of some letters signed by the firm with Harcombe's name attached.

Attorney C. A. Boyd was recalled by the prosecution and testified further respecting conversations with Harcombe about his shortage with the company. He said that Harcombe acknowledged that he had appropriated funds of the firm to his own use, and said he was ready to make amends as near as he could. He told the witness that he would plead guilty to a complaint, if necessary, and that, if required, he would resign from the bar. Mr. Boyd also said that Harcombe told him that he had some land in Idaho and that he would deed it over in settlement of the account, and that he went so far as to leave a deed of the property on his desk, but it was not properly acknowledged. The witness said that Harcombe also insisted on giving a bill of sale of certain accounts which he claimed was due him and that he refused that.

Mr. Boyd said that he told Harcombe that, as there was an incumbrance on the Idaho property his firm did not care to accept it, and that insofar as the accounts which were preferred were concerned, his company would not care to take up the collection of them. He said that he advised Harcombe to collect on his accounts and apply the proceeds in settlement of his shortage with the company.

On cross examination, Mr. Boyd stated that he received $50 from Frank Rounds after Harcombe had left the city, to apply on Harcombe's account. He also said that complaints had been filed in the municipal court and in the district court signed in the firm name of Boyd, DeVine & Eccles and W. W. Harcombe, and that as one of the attorneys of the firm he had certified to the complaint in his own name. He also said that the complaints had to do with the collection department of the firm.

In explanation of Harcombe's signature appearing on pleadings with the firm name, Mr. Boyd said that it was in the relationship of associate counsel, and did not indicate a partnership. He said that Harcombe was employed as agent or clerk in the collection department, as an attorney who could draw up complaints and appear in the courts if necessary as associate counsel.

On cross examination, Attorney J. N. Kimball, counsel for Harcombe, introduced in evidence complaints that had been filed in the courts by Harcombe and signed by the firm of Boyd, DeVine & Eccles and W. W. Harcombe. This indicated that the line of defense will be that Harcombe was so closely connected with the firm that to collect and dispose of funds in the collection department as he saw fit would not constitute embezzlement, even though he did not make an accounting to the firm. The contention will likely be that the remedy of the firm should be a civil action against Harcombe to recover the balance due on certain accounts in the collection department.

Waiting for the arrival of J. H. DeVine from the east, a witness for the state, the case was continued until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon D. Rosenthal testified to paying Harcombe $425 on accounts which he had for collection, saying that Harcombe made the collection as a representative of the Boyd-DeVine & Eccles firm.

LATE CHAPLAIN WAS FATHER OF BOXING

New York, Nov. 19.—The Rev. Father William Henry Ironsides Reaney, chaplain of the United States navy with the rank of captain, who died here last night, was often called the father of boxing in the United States navy. He also introduced other athletic sports among the sailors. The story is told that he once defeated Tom Sharkey, the sailor-pugilist when Sharkey's conduct at service on board ship displeased the chaplain. Father Reaney spent the greater part of his more than twenty years of service at sea, and was chaplain of Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, in the battle of Manila bay. His last post at sea was on board the battleship Utah. His body will be taken to Detroit for burial.

EMBARGO MAY BE PLACED ON STEEL

Sufficient Supply Needed for Construction of U. S. Battleship—Congress May Be Asked to Act.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Congress may be asked to place a temporary embargo on exports of structural steel to the European belligerents in order to afford a sufficient supply of the metal for use in the construction of the two battleships, bids for which were opened at the navy department on Wednesday.

This plan is suggested as a result of the disclosure that neither of the new battleships can be laid down before next summer because of a lack of steel. The entire output of the American steel plants, it is said, has been taken by the warring nations.

Announcement is made by Secretary Daniels that tentative plans are under consideration for two 36,000-ton battleships to be included in the first part of the five-year building program. No navy in the world has such large warships as these.

Berlin, Nov. 19, by wireless to Sayville.—The British advance against Bagdad has been checked southeast of Kut in Mesopotamia by a mutiny of Indian troops who refused to march further against Bagdad because of the presence in that city of objects sacred to their religion, according to a Frankfurter Zeitung dispatch from Constantinople, the Overseas News Agency says.

"The British executed every tenth Indian soldier of several battalions."
